

Frosh Will Play 1957 Intrasquad Game

ALL THE WAY — The Frosh squad practices for Friday's game.

Indiana football's "New Faces of '57" will perform before the general public Friday afternoon, when the Fightin' Hoosier frosh take the field at 3:30 p.m. for an intrasquad game.

The first-year team is currently stacked at least five-deep in every position, and Coach Howard Brown expects to give each man a shot at his position during the game.

According to the press clippings, I.U. seems to have pulled in its share of the football talent from the Midwest. All the boys sport at least all-county or all-districts from their respective states.

VanWieren Frosh General.

Doing a workmanlike job in the quarterback slot for the frosh are VanWieren from Cadillac, Mich., and Jeff Phillips of Middletown, O. VanWieren, a 6'1" signal-caller, was an all-Conference high school selection. Phillips, who also stands 6'1" but is about five pounds heavier, was also an all-Conference pick.

Kenny Smith of Speedway and Harvey Yearly of Middlesboro, Ky., have been showing well in the wingback spot, with Smith having an edge in speed. He was all-state honorable mention and clipped off 10.1 three times in the 100-yard-dash. Smith is a 192-pounder. Yearly, at 170, was an all-Kentucky selection.

At tailback, strong men have been Dave Killen, a 185-pounder from Johnstown, Pa., and Tony Prantera of East Detroit. Rounding out the backfield, Avan Reeves, a Long Branch, N.J., product, and Ron Elmy of Pontiac, Mich., have been showing well.

Frosh Line Beefy.

of Newport News, Va. are two long and weighty ends. Dixon measures 6'4" and weighs 220, while Faison is even bigger. He stands 6'5" and weighs 226.

Ed Morris and Steve Lasher are holding their own in the left tackle spots. Morris, a 240-pounder, was a member of the East Chicago Roosevelt mythical state championship team in 1955, and 240-pound Lasher is from New Jersey.

Terry Conley of Mishawaka, an all-state honorable mention selection, and Harold Ball, Marmet, W. Va., are playing steady ball at right tackle. Conley tips the scales at 225.

Harris a Top Guard.

At left guard, Rex Harris, Logansport's all-American, heads the list of candidates. Harris weights 205. Backing his is Fred Lauter, a 210-pounder from Moundville, W. Va. On the other side of the center, Bill Kerr and Gene Jeric, a pair of 220-pounders, are competing with Jim Fisher of Morganfield, Ky. Kerr is from Steubenville, O., and Jeric hails from Garfield Heights, O.

In the middle spot, Harry Hartman, Uniontown, Pa., Allen Cox, Detroit, and Jim Saunders of Hammond have been showing a lot of promise.

The frosh game will be played as part of the Homecoming weekend—admission is free.
